

Board of Directors

Michelle A. Kumbier is the former Chief Operating Officer of Harley-Davidson Motor Company, a company that has defined motorcycle culture since 1903 with an expanding range of leading-edge, distinctive and customizable motorcycles in addition to riding experiences and exceptional motorcycle accessories, riding gear and apparel.

Ms. Kumbier spent 23 years with Harley-Davidson, serving as COO from 2017 until retiring from the post in April 2020. Prior to serving as COO, she held multiple executive leadership roles, including Senior Vice President of Motor Company Product and Operations, Senior Vice President of Motorcycle Operations, Senior Vice President of Product Development and Vice President Materials Management and Corporate Quality. She began her career in 1986 with Kohler Company, maker of premium plumbing products, spending 11 years in a variety of roles.

Ms. Kumbier holds a bachelor's degree in marketing from Lakeland University and an MBA from the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh. Ms. Kumbier currently serves as a Director of Abbott Laboratories and Teledyne Technologies Incorporated.

Ms. Kumbier joined our Board in August 2021. As the former SVP and COO of Harley-Davidson, she brings to the board significant industry knowledge and extensive experience in the management of a multinational public company, including manufacturing, product development, business development and strategic planning experience.
